

Anti-Bullying Policy

AIM

The aim of the anti-bullying policy is to ensure that pupils at Wyke Primary Academy thrive in a supportive, caring and safe environment without fear of being bullied. We want our pupils to come to school and feel safe and empowered. We are committed to providing a caring and secure environment where all pupils (irrespective of race, disability, sexual orientation, gender and religious belief) are encouraged to demonstrate an understanding of self-discipline, self-regulation, care and respect to all members of our school community which enables them to learn. We recognise that every member of our school community has a responsibility towards encouraging positive choices and creating a shared sense of responsibility that results in preventing bullying. Bullying is an anti-social behaviour and affects everyone; it is unacceptable and will not be tolerated.

What is Bullying?

Bullying can be defined as “behaviour by an individual or a group, repeated over time that intentionally hurts another individual either physically or emotionally”. (DfE “Preventing and Tackling Bullying”, July 2017)

Bullying is, therefore:

- Deliberately hurtful
- Repeated, often over a period of time
- Difficult to defend against

Bullying can be emotional, physical, racial, sexual, direct or indirect verbal and cyber-bullying and social. The children at Wyke Primary Academy are taught STOP- Several Times On Purpose as a way for them to recognise if they or someone they know is being bullied.

All staff at Wyke Primary Academy are vigilant to changes in behaviour which may indicate that a child is being bullied. All staff and pupils are encouraged to report bullying in our school.

Changes in behaviour

There are many warning signs that may indicate that someone is affected by bullying—either being bullied or bullying others. Recognising the warning signs is an important first step in acting against bullying. Not all children who are bullied or are bullying others ask for help.

Signs a child is being bullied

Some signs that may point to a bullying problem are:

- Unexplained injuries
- Lost or destroyed clothing, books, electronics, or jewellery
- Frequent headaches or stomach aches, feeling sick or faking illness
- Changes in eating habits, such as; suddenly skipping meals or binge eating. Children may come home from school hungry because they did not eat lunch
- Difficulty sleeping or frequent nightmares
- Declining attainment, loss of interest in schoolwork, or not wanting to go to school
- Sudden loss of friends or avoidance of social situations
- Feelings of helplessness or decreased self esteem
- Self-destructive behaviours such as running away from home, harming themselves, or talking about suicide

Signs a child may be bullying others

Children may be bullying others if they:

- Get into physical or verbal fights
- Have friends who bully others
- Are increasingly aggressive
- Have unexplained extra money or new belongings
- Blame others for their problems
- Don't accept responsibility for their actions
- Are competitive and worry about their reputation or popularity

What is NOT bullying

Bullying is behaviour that is intended to hurt, is repeated and where there is an imbalance of power (when it is hard for the person being bullied to defend themselves). This means that a one-off incident is not usually bullying behaviour although it may still be frightening and harmful.

Types of bullying

Physical

- Repeated negative use of body contact to intentionally hurt others
- E.g. kicking, pushing, pulling, punching, tripping, unwanted touching (sexual or otherwise), unacceptable gestures or any use of violence

Verbal

- Repeated negative use of speech, sign language, or verbal gestures to intentionally hurt others
- E.g. swearing, discriminatory language, offensive language (concerning actual or perceived personal choices), hurtful comments

Indirect

Indirect bullying may consist of actions designed to inflict psychological harm on the targeted victim by damaging their:

- Reputation with peers
- Relationships with peers
- Self-esteem

Factors that constitute indirect bullying generally include:

- Anonymity of the bully
- Hidden behaviour
- Intent to isolate the victim from peers

Social bullying, Emotional or Psychological

- Ignoring someone, excluding, glaring, isolating a person, graffiti, rumour spreading, sending unwanted text messages or emails, publishing hurtful material on social networking sites (cyber-bullying)

Cyber

- Inappropriate text messaging and e-mailing; sending offensive or degrading images by phone or via the internet, phone call bullying, chat room bullying or any other form of social media.

The rapid development of, and widespread access to, technology has provided a new medium for 'virtual' bullying, which can occur in or outside school. Cyber-bullying is a different form of bullying and can happen at all times of the day, with a potentially bigger audience. The wider search powers included in the Education Act 2011 give teachers stronger powers to tackle cyber-bullying by providing a specific power to search for and, if necessary, delete inappropriate images (or files) on electronic devices, including mobile phones.

Disability

This is where children and young people with a learning or other disability are deliberately singled out, ridiculed or triggered for being seen as different. This could be things like:

- speaking or moving differently
- showing emotion differently
- having specialist equipment
- having support from a teaching assistant or SEN Co-ordinator
- making loud noises in class or being easily provoked
- showing loud, excitable or even aggressive behaviour or being easily provoked
- being quiet, seen as an 'easy target' or easy to control

Racial bullying

Is a type of racism where bullying focuses on race, ethnicity or culture. Racism and racist bullying can include:

- being called racist names or being sent insulting messages or threats
- having belongings damaged or having to see racist graffiti
- personal attacks, including violence or assault
- being left out, treated differently or excluded
- people making assumptions about an individual because of their colour, race or culture
- being made to feel like the individual must change how they look
- racist jokes, including jokes about an individual's colour, nationality, race or culture

Child-on-Child abuse

Children can abuse other children. This is generally referred to as child-on-child abuse and can take many forms. This can include (but is not limited to) bullying (including cyberbullying); sexual violence and sexual harassment; physical abuse such as hitting, kicking, shaking, biting, hair pulling, or otherwise causing physical harm; sexting and initiating/hazing type violence and rituals.

How can we help to prevent bullying at Wyke Primary Academy?

As part of our ongoing commitment to the safety and welfare of our children we at Wyke Primary Academy have developed the following strategies to promote positive behaviour and discourage bullying behaviour:

- Educate all members of our school so that they can recognise bullying
- Give pupils strategies for dealing with bullying
- Give opportunities for children to talk about bullying including the use of drama, PSHE Jigsaw lessons and assemblies
- Allow opportunities for the School Council to discuss the issues surrounding bullying and to put ideas forward for ways to reduce it

Appendix 2: How bullying will be dealt with

Initial report of bullying. This could be made by anyone (child, staff, parent)

Reported on CPOMS

Reported to member of SLT

Those involved interviewed separately including the reported Victim, instigator and witnesses, this may be by the class teacher, DSL or member of SLT

Using restorative justice approach

This will involve offering all the children involved an opportunity to engage in Restorative Justice approaches to help them all understand how everyone is feeling, why the behaviour happened and what they can do to put things right/stop things going wrong in the future. This step will happen whether or not the incident is a friendship issue or bullying.

Parents to be informed of the investigation

The school will tailor its response to reflect the incident and the support needed to prevent the problem from reoccurring. Sanctions, in line with the school Positive Behaviour Policy are usually applied, along with additional support and monitoring for the child who experienced the bullying.

Reported on CPOMS

Follow up

The information we hold will be used to ensure individual incidents are followed up. It will also be used to identify trends and inform preventative work in school and development of the policy by the Senior Leadership Team.

Children Involved in Bullying- Taken from <https://www.stopbullying.gov/bullying/roles-kids-play>

The roles children play in bullying are not limited to those who bully others and those who are bullied. Some researchers talk about the "circle of bullying" to define both those directly involved in bullying and those who actively or passively assist the behaviour or defend against it. Direct roles include:

- Children who Bully: These children engage in bullying behaviour towards their peers. There are many risk factors that may contribute to the child's involvement in the behaviour. Often, these students require support to change their behaviour and address any other challenges that may be influencing their behaviour.
- Children who are Bullied: These children are the targets of bullying behaviour. Some factors put children at more risk of being bullied, but not all children with these characteristics will be bullied. Sometimes, these children may need help learning how to respond to bullying.

Even if a child is not directly involved in bullying, they may be contributing to the behaviour. Witnessing the behaviour may also affect the child, so it is important for them to learn what they should do when they see bullying happen. Role's children play when they witness bullying include:

- Children who Assist: These children may not start the bullying or lead in the bullying behaviour but serve as an "assistant" to children who are bullying. These children may encourage the bullying behaviour and occasionally join in.
- Children who Reinforce: These children are not directly involved in the bullying behaviour but they give the bullying an audience. They will often laugh or provide support for the children who are engaging in bullying. This may encourage the bullying to continue.
- Outsiders: These children remain separate from the bullying situation. They neither reinforce the bullying behaviour nor defend the child being bullied. Some may watch what is going on but do not provide feedback about the situation to show they are on anyone's side. Even so, providing an audience may encourage the bullying behaviour. These children often want to help, but don't know how.
- Children who Defend: These children actively comfort the child being bullied and may come to the child's defence when bullying occurs.

Most children play more than one role in bullying over time. In some cases, they may be directly involved in bullying as the one bullying others or being bullied and in others they may witness bullying and play an assisting or defending role. Every situation is different. Some children are both bullied and bully others. It is important to note the multiple roles kids play, because:

- Those who are both bullied and bully others may be at more risk for negative outcomes, such as depression or suicidal ideation.
- It highlights the need to engage all children in prevention efforts, not just those who are known to be directly involved.
